

11 Oct 2009 - APOLLO Fineshades Hike & Camp

Saturday was fine and sunny and the walk from Southwick Hall to Fineshades took us through some rolling Northamptonshire country side.

Map reading is easy in this situation.

Yes it is, until you get lost.

Now the Scouts know why they need to keep checking the map & using a compass.

An evening meal was cooked on an open fire inside the log enclosed area that you can see in the picture.

When its dark, and the owls were hooting, it was time for a widegame involving plastic cones, flashing red lights and security guards. The Scouts seemed to understand what was going on.

We slept overnight in the Shelters in the picture.

Sunday was another bright day and included a walk from Fineshades to Barrowden with a stop at Wakerley Woods for lunch.

Two groups found themselves being escorted through the middle of a Airsoft game.

Thanks to all the leaders & helpers for making everything happen.
